

1. The Truro Conservation Commission would like you to know about the Barnstable County Cooperative extension native plant sale! Native Plants are important for our local ecology, and they can be incorporated into your landscape easily because they require no fertilizers!

Do you enjoy the taste of beach plums? Have you ever smelled Summersweet? Did you know that Summersweet is an important source of pollen for our honeybee population on the Outercape?

Take a chance on native plants with very little cost ! You must place your order by March 17 with a personal check. Please click on the link for more information.

<http://www.capecodextension.org/wp-content/uploads/2017/01/2017a-Brochure-Complete-8.5-x-11.pdf>

2. The first quarterly Truro beach cleanup of 2017 will be held on March 25 from 2-4 PM

This cleanup is sponsored by the Truro Conservation Commission, the Beach Commission, the Board of Health, and CERT. Volunteers Needed !!

Meet-up at Corn Hill Beach parking lot for garbage bags and gloves. Some folks will be directed to other bayside beaches from the meet-up site.

For more information, contact Truro Conservation at 508-349-7004 extension 119 or Jennifer Rose at 301-385-2006.

(Rain date March 26, same time, place, and plan!)