Outgoing TPRTA President Honored at Annual Meeting

TRURO, MASSACHUSETTS – Outgoing president of the Truro Part-Time Resident Taxpayers' Association (TPRTA), Regan McCarthy, was honored by over 100 people after the group's annual meeting on Saturday with the planting of an heirloom apple tree on the grounds of Truro's Historic Meeting House on Town Hall Road. Ms. McCarthy has been president of TPRTA for the past 12 years, and the group regularly holds its meetings at this location.

“Giving a tree to the Meetinghouse was wonderful, and dedicating it in my honor was a great honor and surprise for which I am truly grateful. I have been privileged to serve with you for many years, and we have all created a great community-serving organization together,” said McCarthy.

TPRTA is an organization that represents the interests of Truro's part-time population and actively advocates for responsible fiscal management and decision-making at the local level for the benefit of all residents. It has been in existence for more than 20 years. Most communities on the Cape have similar associations. To learn more about TPRTA or to become a member, please visit tprta.org or email tprta@tprta.org.
